

Partnership Memorandum of Understanding

This Memorandum of Understanding ("MOU") is entered into on May 20th, 2016 between Hardware Massive, and Asociación de Peruanos Estudiantes y Egresados en Japón (APEJA), the undersigned organization or individual ("Partner"), each separately a "Party", and together the "Parties".

The Parties agree that the provisions of this MOU are a confidential expression of intent and are non-exclusive and non-binding and do not create legal rights or obligations on the part of either Party. If at any time the Parties desire to enter into a definitive binding agreement, the Parties agree to do so at their own expense; any such binding shall replace and supersede this MOU and an Exhibit A, if any.

Scope and Purpose

The Parties desire to form this partnership for mutual benefit, including referrals of community members and clients or prospective community members and clients to the other Party.

As part of this cooperative relationship, both Parties agree to allow the other Party to publicly disclose the existence of this partnership, but not the terms of this MOU. Both Parties agree to allow the other Party to display its logo in materials describing the existence of this partnership.

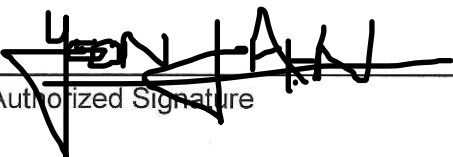

Additional definitions of the scope, purpose, or other operational aspects of this partnership, if any, are defined Exhibit A attached hereto.

General Terms

This MOU does not entitle either Party to rights in the intellectual property, trademarks, copyrights, or confidential client information possessed by the other Party. This MOU does not grant rights to either Party as an agent or representative of the other Party; neither Party may enter into binding agreements on behalf of the other Party.
